

Importance of Communicating in English Language

Fear of speaking

Digital Teacher .in Contact: 90000 90702

sales@digitalteacher.in

English Language Lab

• Speaking • Listening • Reading • Writing • Phonetics • Soft skills

- ▶ If we were born and brought up in a society where English is the first language, then we would have been experts in speaking English naturally.
- ▶ Many students don't get an opportunity to speak English.
- ▶ Writing and speaking are two different skills, writing is a slow process and the brain gets time to frame words while we write. But speaking is a faster process where we don't get much time to frame words. This requires us to frame words simultaneously while we are speaking.
- ▶ That is possible only with sufficient practice.
- ▶ The fear of speaking correctly and causing embarrassment inhibits people from speaking at all.
- ▶ We fear that we may not speak correctly. So, we don't speak in English.
- ▶ Many experts recommend us to talk in front of a mirror, to overcome the fear.
- ▶ For that many experts advise us to talk in front of a mirror.
- ▶ Yes. It helps but partially. The person who is in front of the mirror is you. The person in the mirror may not laugh at your mistakes but will not be able to correct your mistakes. He will not be able to guide you.
- ▶ So you need to talk to a person who can correct, guide, teach and enhance your English speaking skills, without causing any embarrassment.
- ▶ English language lab does the same thing. It teaches you in a sequential manner so that you improve your skills faster and accurately.
- ▶ English language lab is a virtual mentor to enhance English speaking skills.

9

Anniversary

CODE & PIXELS
Interactive Technologies Private Limited

Language is the means of communication with fellow beings and the world outside for effectively conveying our thoughts and desires. The use of words, image, symbol, and sound manifest the base of a language. It is the mode of expression and emotional release on which civilizations thrive.

The communication medium of today's civilization undoubtedly thrives on the English language. This is because English has for long been the medium of instruction and communication in education, business, international trade, and commerce. It is an international language and is an important factor in today's globalized world.

Educating in English

A child could be educated in the native language during the initial years but as the level of education increases his/her thirst for knowledge in the array of different fields will also increase. To progress in the field of science, computers, mathematics, law or any of the civil services as a career the knowledge of English is mandatory.

The internet savvy generation of today can't do so without the knowledge of English, even if it is at a basic level. In the information technology field, computer programmers are required to code using syntax which is in English. Getting a job in a multinational organization in your own country or in a foreign country will necessarily require a sound knowledge of English.

Global acceptance of the language

Though every country in the world may not be proficient in English, it is the widely accepted official language of communication in most of them. It plays a key role in building diplomatic relations with the countries.

The significance of the English language in the international business community cannot be understated as most of the cross-border business communication is conducted using the same, and the organizations expect their employees to be fluent in English.

Being in the world of constant information exchange, the press and news is another important sphere where English has a crucial role. Every news has to be transmitted at utmost speed, or else it loses its meaning.

News written in the native language could be accepted for the local community, but for the news to gain an international audience, it must be written in English only. This makes English a language of global significance which cannot be overlooked.

For more information visit - <https://www.englishlab.co.in/blog/importance-of-communicating-in-english-language/>